SUMMER SAVING

The days are still long and filled with sunshine. Though retailers would have you think otherwise, school is still a long way off. If you're looking to save on some purchases patience is the key word.

BUY: Patriotic items

Pledge allegiance along with your favorite retailers by purchasing almost anything under the sun in red, white and blue. You can pick up bargain-priced clothing, home goods, toys, party goods and so much more after Independence Day.

SKIP: Sunglasses

If you need a new pair of shades, you're best off waiting a bit before springing for a new pair. Sunglasses won't start seeing discounts until September.

BUY: School and office supplies

The start of the school year may be close to two months off, but retailers are already deep into back-to-school season by the time the calendar hits July. Check out big-box stores for specials.

SKIP: Grills and patio furniture

Grills, patio furniture and other outdoor gear will still be retailing at full price through July. If you can wait a bit, until mid or late August, you'll save a bundle on all you need to upgrade your outdoor living.

BUY: Summer apparel

Fashion is always one step ahead of the rest of the world, and summertime is no exception. Look out for discounts on summer wear you can still enjoy this season or save for next year's hot-weather season.

SKIP: Lawn mowers

Lawn mowers are still in high demand, so they are still retailing at full price. The longer you wait into the season, the better price you can find on a lawn mower and other gardening tools and supplies.

BUY: Amazon devices

Amazon has announced it will be hosting its Prime Day sales event in July this year. Look out for the exact dates to pick up some fantastic savings on all Amazon devices.

SKIP: Sandals and flip-flops

Sandals and flip-flops won't be discounted until August, when the end of the summer is in sight.

BUY: A/C Units

A/C units will begin to drop toward the end of July as the season passes its midpoint. If your A/C needs to be replaced, you can find a new unit at a discounted price in July.
